

Journal Reflection

In about 500 words, describe your experience in this course. How has your approach to computer science and problem solving changed? Do you see computer science playing a different role in your life after having taken this course?